

Beauty as I See it

This is a collage of pictures that I have taken myself. The idea behind this submission is that the beauty depicted here is how I see it, these same scenes might have looked entirely different to different people. Similarly, how we see ourselves is subjective as well, and we can take inspiration from the earth and start seeing our inner selves as beautiful too.

By Sadaf Ambreen Saiyad